Mr. Urittenden's Kansas Bill. We hardly know whether indignation or mot tification ought to be felt most by the people of Kentucky at the course of their two united Senators, Crittenden and Thompson. With the exception of Sam Houston, they alone, of the Southern Senators have affiliated with the abolitionists during the late session of Congress. Mr. Crittenden introduced a bill, which substantially repealed the Kansas Nebraska act, and gave to Congress all the power over the Territo- ever, as a personal testimonial he accepted it, ries claimed by the abolitionists. According to his bill every law passed by the people of Kansas, before it went into effect, had to be submit ted to Congress for approval or rejection. His bill, entirely repudiated the doctrine of non. intervention, and gave to Congress full power over the institution of Slavery in the Territories. It was voted for by Seward, Hale, Wilson Durkee, Trumbull & Co. It was the very instrument they desired, with which to wage war upon the South. Crittenden, the author, and Thompson his collegue and Houston were the only Southern Senators, who voted for this Abolition measure. With these three exceptions the whole South, and the Democratic Senators from the Northern States voted against the bill, and defeated it.

This bill of Crittenden's, was a Fillmon movement, we suppose. In the North Mr. Fillmore's supporters are struggling with the Fremonters for the abolition vote. Both Fillmore and Fremont being members of the "American party" the only question to be decided is which of them is the best "friend of freedom." Crittenden, Thompson and Houston, Constitute, we believe, the Fillmore party of the Senate, and this bill was introduced and voted for hy them to show how heartily they co-operate with their Northern brethren', in their opposition to slavery extension. Had Crittenden's bill, become a law, slavery would have of the States, through its press and orators using been as effectually ex. luded from Kansas, as it could have been by the application of the Wilmot Proviso to that Territory.

The Fillmore party could then have claimed the merit of having effectually checked the "aggressions of the slave power." Fremont would have been eclipsed and Fillmore would have become as popular with the abolitionists as when slave trade between the States. Crittenden Thompson, Humphrey Marshall & Co. evidently think that the "American party" of Kentucky liclongs to them, and that 'hey can transfer it to the abolitionists whenever it may suit their convenience. These gentlemen will discover about the fourth of next November that there is a Democratic party in this State which will hurl them from power and fill their places with true friends of the South.

Very Significant.

The American Organ, edited by Vespasian Edis, and published at the city of Washington, makes the following significant announcement in its issue of Tuesday, August 26th:

"The Hon. Wm. Millward has been renon ated in the 3d district. He will be supported by all the opponents of Buchanan in his district. Mr. Millward is a member of the present Con-

This Mr. Millward is one of the Know Nothing members in the present House of Representatives, who, professing to be National, yet withheld his vote from Governor Aiken, when the content was narrowed down to him and Banks. He was one of the Fuller Know Nothings, and has been greatly lauded as one of the faithful men on whom the South can rely for the protection of her rights. Scarcely have these commendations died on the ear, before we find a national Know Nothing organ proclaiming that Millward "will be supported by ALL OPPONENTS OF the Fremont men, have fused in his support, as they have done in support of their State ticket in Pennsylvania. They are making common cause, in the hope that by a union, they will be able to wrest the State from Mr. Buchanan, and transfer the vote to Fremont as the most available man for the Presidency.

We hope the South will take note of these signs, and be forewarned.

ANTI-KNOW-NOTHING BARBROURS .- The Demo crats and Anti-Know-Nothing Whigs of Old Shelby are at work in good earnest, and promise to give the right kind of an account of themselves in November.

They will give a fine barbecue at Hardinsvills on the 13th inst., at which there will be a number of prominent speakers. And on the 4th of October they will have another grand harbacue at Simpsonville, at which Hon. Elijah Hise, one of the Democratic State Electors, will be the princi-

A COMPARISON.—The majorities by which Mr. Pierce was elected President in 1852 were very large. But the elections of last month show etill larger Democratic majorities. The States of Missouri, Kentucky, Arkansas, Texas, North Carolina and Iowa gave in 1852 an aggregate Democratic majority of 20,772. In 1836 they give an aggregate Democratic majority of 43,000.

This is a Democratic gain of 22,228. These States in 1852 gave twelve electoral votes against the Democratic candidates. In 1856 they will give but four votes against them.

"If we have no flag of our own flying; if we have no trumpet to call us Whigs; if, amid the smoke and dust of the strife and conflict of other parties, I can see the flag of the Union flying anywhere; if, amid the noise and din of arms, I can hear the trumpet of the Union sounding the rally, I shall not stop to inquire who leads the forces that protect it."—George Evans, of

'His Lionor Mayor Faran then presented Mr. Breckinridge to the audience, and then such a roar of hurralis, such a rush of the scattered enote of men on the margin of the assembly to he center, such a general deafening manifest tion of feeling as followed, cannot be imagined. much less described. Calmly surveying the vast crowd, which it would not be extravagant to set down at twenty thousand men, Mr. Breckinridge awaited until the tumult was hushed in breathle silence, and then, in a strong, distinct voice, slight hoarse from his effort at Covington, proceeded to address them. Every word he uttered was heard by the whole assembly—no one left—and save the applause which followed each senteuce, not a sound was heard. It was a noble, a manly, a patriotic speech.

MR. BRECKINRIDGE'S SPEECH.

He said such a reception was as unexpected as it was grateful to him. He was merely passing through this beautiful city on his way to a grand patriotic demonstration of the Great West, to be held at a place endeared to them all by its associations-associations the indulgence in were well calculated to keep fresh and strong the fraternal affection and regard of our people as they were associations of common struggles and sacrifices in behalf of a common country and a common Union. [Great applause.] But he could not be insensible to such an ovation as had been tendered him. It was not, howbut as an earnest of the goodfeeling and enthu slasm of this enlightened population for the cause of which he had been made one of the representatives; for the party to which it was his pride to belong. He came from a State south of that line which a sectional party would draw across this Union; he stood on that soil which that party would fair make foreign to him, and be found himself surrounded by a myriad host of friends, who would never consent to be enemies and aliens to their brethren on the other side of that fatal line. [Tremendous hurrahs.] Those shouts were shouts for the Union—shouts for the preservation of our nationality—of fraternal concord and affection. Those banners that waved Democratic party was the only party now in exaround them were the glorious symbols of a istence with which they could affiliate and preited country-of a still unbroken confederacy Every star was still in its place; the glorious constellation was still unsullied, and unsoiled and unstained. The faces upturned to him expressed the true glow of one general feeling of patriotic emotion—of an uncon-querable passion for the Union. They had een before told of dangers to the Union. Alarms had been at times unnecessarily excited on this subject and by this cry. He had been lisgusted himself at the levity with which such alarms were sometimes excited. But now there was a just, a real cause for these alarms. The the possibility of successful contradiction. The peril to the Union was palpable to the most blind audience was then dismissed to partake of the and skeptical. A sectional party, having an existence in but sixteen of the States, making no appeal to fifteen of the States, represented in nvention from but a section of the Union, onnded in fact and in spirit by geographical ines, proposed to rule the Union with hostile to the interests and wishes of the fifteen language and fulminating sentiments calculated to destroy the concord and amity between the North and South. Our Union, one of will and he is now a bright star and bids fair to be one good feeling—dependent for its existence, not of the brightest in the political gallaxy of this upon force i I coercion, which could never be inheld by havonets and armies -but which dederived all its power and efficiency from the fraternal feelings of the people—resting, in fact, upon their hearts, is truly in danger, when such policy is openly avowed, such organization ormed and such feelings manifested. Far be it he was voting in Congress for the exclusion of from him to use to any portion of the Americans tutional rights of the South. His open denuncislavery from the Territories, the abolition of the language of menace. He only stated a great ation of the Rissouri Compromise is used, induces us to urge upon all the necessity very in the District of Columbia, and of the fact in our political history. The country is recome the only bond of the Union. Other liga-thres, civil and religious, have been severed; ties that have long held these States together have soil opponents of Mr. Buchanan. been one by one snapped asunder, and now it is only the members of the Democratic party, who are forinnately diffused through all the States, who can prevent a final and disastrous dissolution of this blessed Union. The party is the guardian of that priceless legacy transmitted to us by the patriotic founders of our Republic.— What must be the consequences of this new and paneful party organization, which was arrayed

How would the people of the North feel and act if the South were able to outvote them on a estion essentially sectional-one on which al ectional prejudices and passions were arousedone which endangered their security, menanced their institutions, defying their wishes, putting peril their interests, disregarding their rights peaping upon them abase, taunting them with ould they not feel that there was not danger Would they not determine to maintain their rights? What were the teachings of the mighty ad, the injunction of the great living

These impress upon us the terrible peril of all ich ideas and designs. The Democracic party donts and reverses their warnings and lessons t governs its action by them; it stands upon a blatform as wide as the nation, and altogether e from every idea or aspect of sectionalism. It is the same in al! latitudes. (Great Heavens!)
The father of his Country, in his last council to his conntrymen, had warned them to "frown indignantly upon every attempt to alienate any feeble the ties which now link together its veri ous parts." In solemn truth he regarded it as a BUCHANAN in his district." The Fillmore men, and great peril, "when any ground should have been furnished for characterizing parties by geograpi-ical determinations—Northern and Southern, real difference of local interests and views.

Such was the warning voice of George Washington. And his own great countryman-the man whose big heart was capacious enough to embrace the whole Union-Henry Clay, warned them against sectional divisions—showing "how with a fair prospect of success in Ohio, Mr. other, and this process of reciprocal consolida-tion would be attended with all the most violent patriotic and truly national man

And so all the sentiments of the great historic ames of the country, of the men who knew the machinery of our Republic from its very comencement, was with the Democracy in this strnggle; and though there were doubtless men of personal respectability engaged in this sec-tional movement, their authority was not suffi-cient to override that of the fathers of the Republic, and of the tried statesmen who had de-voted their whole lives to the study and observation of its workings. [Applause.]

A sad change was passing over the temper of the nation—deplorable alienations were rapidly following one another. Those around him would remember the good feeling and kindly offices which once characterized the intercourse of Ohio and Kentucky. They were then as sisters who could not do to much to testify their mutual affection. They had struggled together, shoulder to shoulder, through all the trying scenes of border life, and in all the wars of the country. Every battle-field of the North was covered with the bones of Sontherners. He said this is no boastful spirit. The same feeling still lingered in the South. They would fiy to the aid of their countrymen again; they would share with their Northern brethren any post or sacrifice to sustain the honor of the nation, or to protect any Northern patriots moulded on many a battle-field. And so may it be. And for that the serve as well to break the tedium of our every and the Democracy is in the army which is to defend that great legacy. If he knew himself, he could truly say that all personal ambition was lost in the one overpowering sense of danger to the Union, and of the great issue at the could truly say that all personal ambition.

Cass.—General Lawis Convention—Gen. Lewis Cass.—General Lawis Convention—Gen. Lewis Cass.—General Lawis Cass.—G Mr. Evans has declared his intention to support Buchanan and Breckinridge. After the utterance of such a patriotic sentiment, it was impossible for him to do anything else.

The republicans got up a meeting to humber of the Union, and of the great issue at stake. He had been in many party conflicts, but in this alone, though a candidate for so exhalted an office, he felt no spur of ambition or selfishness. Men were mortal, trancient. They passed from the earth, leaving but faint foot-prints in the sands of time. The greatest of them were but

FROM STEWART COUNTY, TENNESSEE.

STEWART Co., TENN,, Aug. 24, 1856. DEAR TIMES: - Allow me, if you please, space your most excellent paper to announce to your merous readers the glad tidings that the Democracy of old Stewart are wide awake to the interests of the South and the Union. A barbacue was given yesterday at Williams' Mill, in this county, which was numerously attended by all parties (as the Democrats magnanimously invited the opposition, to prove that they act in accordance with their professed principles, viz: open discussion of all policy and principles which have connection with the administration of this government,) The discussion was opened by N. H. Allen, old line Whig, who in a speech of one hour showed the inconsistency of Clay Whigs in voting for the Know Nothings, and enticated them by the love of their venerable leader, to come up to the support of the Democnow in the contest. That the old party issues erve their integrity to their illustrious old leader, Henry Clay. The audience was next harangued by Mr. Kimbrel, Know Nothing, whose respecta-hility as a gentleman kept some 50 or 100 gentlemen on their seats during his unsuccess Breck and the Union in thundering appeals to the soler senses and sound judgment of the people, at the same time showing Mr. Fillmore. up, by his own record, as a Freesoiler beyond smuptuous barbacue, when they were again called together to hear Col. W. E. Travis, in one of his trong, logical, historical and national speeches, for which he is so much renowned. Col. T. was ortunate enough to strike the trail of Sam very soon after the animal passed through Tennessee, and has successfully followed it through all its windings and showed it up in all it deformity, with its black record, and predicted its future destiny. Though the Colonel is young in years,

Fillmore at the North.

It is manifest that Mr. Fillmore is regarded by a great portion of the North as an equally efficient ally with Fremont, in resisting the consti-

Geo. T. Davis, of Massachusetts, has declined the nomination of the Fillmore American Convention of that State, for the office of Attorney General-not because Mr. Fillmore does not rep resent his (D.'s,) anti-Slavery sentiments, bu because he wishes to make his vote effective hy casting it for Fremont, the only formidable oponent of Mr. Buchanan. Here is what Mr

I have great personal regard and respect for Mr. Fillmore, and great confidence in the national and harmonizing influences, which, if elected, he would be likely to bring around him. But I annot resist the conviction that the practical issu f this election lies between the supporters of Mr. Buchanan and the supporters of Mr. Fremont. It this situation of things, I would especially avoid the risk of casting an meffective vote. I will not, by word or act, obstruct the expression that sentiment which should assert itself with ndivided force agains! the heach of a time-hallowed national compromise and the attempt to force the institution of slavery into free territory at the point of the bayonet.

These views are likely to bring me to a different conclusion as to a Presidential candidate, from that contemplated by your Convention, and this in itself seems to be a sufficient reason for most respectfully declining the honor tendered

But we have still further and stronger evilence. The notorious Tom Corwin who, in 849, stumped Ohio and recommended Mr. Fillore to the support of the people of that State, n the ground that he was an Abolitionist, thus defines his rosition through the columns of the Cincinnati Columbian;

We are authorised by Governor Corwin to say, that our notice of his relation to the present Presidential contest is not accurate. Mr. Corwin will vote the Fillmore ticket, if it shall be run union on one side would beget union on the more being the man he prefers. But if the Fillmore ticket is not likely to carry Ohio, then he tion would be attended with all the most violent prejudices, emhittered passion and implacable animosities which once degraded and deformed human nature, but was the language of a great mas announced by them he cannot give his assent. He believes all that is desirable and prope may be accomplished by the election of Mr more, and that he is the man just now wanted, to do exact justice to both the North and the South, and restore tranquility to the country.

[From the El Gicaragueneze, Aug. 16th] PRESIDET WALKER'S FIRST LEVERS-On the evening of the 9th inst., President Walker gave his first levee. The assembly was quite large, and included members of nearly all the old Spanish families residing in the city. At the meeting the Spanish senoritas and American ladies met for the first time, but we trust the agreeable entertainment of that evening will coudace to hring them frequently together here-after. At about half-past eight o'clock the military hand hegan to play, and that any of the nusic might not be lost a quadrille party was WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY shortly on the floor. The dancing continued until about cleven o'clock, and was participated in by natives as well as the others, when the party retired to partake of an excellent lunch The eatables having been disposed of, the dance was resumed for a short time. The people re tired at midnight. The President did not dance, much to the regret of many present, but confined himself to agreable conversations with all who sought the honor of his company. ure we enjoy leads us to hope that such enter-inst. In his letter General Cass says: "The present crisis of our country demands the exertion of every true Democrat, and I shall return home without delay, after the adjournment, to take my part in the pending contest, upon the issue of which, in my opinion, depends the permanence of the Union and the 'Constitution.'

STILL CATAWBA. Corresponding to the German Hock Wines "Park's" Sparkling and Still Catawba Wines. ese wines have the highest character of any hrands in the market; they took the award of the "Silver Medal" at the last Fair of the American Institute in New York. They are the Pure Juice of the Catawha Grape, grown on the limestone hills of Kentucky, and far more rich, delicious, and fruity in their flavor than any of the foreign brands. His Still Catawba with ice, sugar, and ions in the shape of cobblers, makes the most refreshing summer beverage known J. P. THOMPSON, 74 Fourth st., bet. Main

An Irish woman was taken suddenly ill upon the last evening's Express train from this city. She was prevailed upon at Hartford to leave the train, and was sent to the hospital, where, in an hour she was delivered of a fine. healthy child. She was quite unwilling to be cheated out of her ride, being very anxious to find her husband in New York, not having seen him "for a twelve month!"—Springfield (Mass.)
